The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writer and do not necessarily reflect those of the management; in fact, many times they do not.

THE BIG GAME

There was an upset in the football contest yesterday between California and Stanford at Palo Alto yesterday. All the betting was in favor of California by 8 to 5, but the Cardinals came out with a final score of 13 to 0. Ninety thousand people paid approximately half a million dollars to see the struggle between the two great universities of the state. This fact does not indicate in any degree that hard times are still with us. The result means that Stanford will play in the Rose Bowl, a coveted honor.

AN AILE OFFICIAL

With the death of County Auditor A. N. Sullenger, Contra Costa county loses an able official. He served faithfully for 28 years, and made many innovations in the conduct of his office, that were adopted by other counties in California.

ICKES DESERTED

Secretary Harold Ickes is out of, by now, the mess he got into over letting public works steel contracts to German manufacturers but the thing that will long stick in the minds of observers is how the rest of the New Dealers cackled when he was in trouble. It was one of the greatest outpouring of cackles at a man that we have ever seen.

Why they would neglect him in this way is really something to give the citizens pause. The people are bound to wonder he was abandoned in this way.

GETS RECOGNITION

Even if Secretary of Commerce Dan Roper's term were to end tomorrow he's got two experiences as a member of the Cabinet during the Revolution to tell his grandchildren about. "And they told me that I didn't have a chance for recognition but I got it on two occasions."

Dan's experiences sound like fiction. They attest to the hardihood of the man, too, his ruggedness, his determination never to give up. Dan is a conservative standing almost alone in this crowd. He's got the job on which Mr. Hoover rode into the Presidency. But things have changed since then. To have to do with business is a hard pursuit now. It is commercial and to be successful at by the artistically minded gentlemen who prevail. They say of Dan that he thinks in the old tradesmen's terms of dollars and cents while the New Dealers think in strictly aesthetic terms.

Man And Wife Escape Death In Auto Crash

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Howell, 1531 Brush street, Oakland, were treated at Richmond Cottage Hospital after 2 o'clock this morning for bruises and shock suffered in an automobile accident on Cutting Boulevard near Twenty-sixth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell miraculously escaped death or serious injuries when Howell lost control of his machine and it overturned and was demolished. The injured were removed from the wreckage by passing motorists and were taken to the hospital. After treatment by a nurse, they were returned to their home.

Cars driven by Lloyd Cordell, 412 Macdonald avenue and K. L. Watson, 625 Fifth street collided shortly after 1 o'clock at Pullman and Potrero avenues. No one was injured. Damage was slight.

CITY HALL PROPOSAL BEATEN

BOND PLAN IS BEATEN BY VOTERS

By the decisive vote of 357 to 233, the voters of El Cerrito went to the polls yesterday, and decided that bonds of $17,000 should not be issued for a new city hall.

Out of a possible registration of 2,000, but 590 voters, or less than one third, took enough interest to go to the polls.

There were 233 votes in favor of the bonds and 357 against. The proposal lost in every precinct in the city even so far as a majority vote was concerned, let alone a two-thirds vote, which is necessary to carry a bond issue.

To have carried the issue with the 590 vote cast, would have taken 294 favorable votes.

The vote in the several consolidated precincts was as follows:

Precinct 1: Schwabe hall; Yes, 21, No 73.

Precinct 2: Harding school; Yes, 32, No 57.

Precinct 3: Fairmont school; Yes, 45, No 54.

Precinct 4: 7517 Terrace Drive; Yes, 30, No 46.

Precinct 5: San Pablo and Potrero; Yes 78, No 82.

Precinct 6: Mira Vista; Yes 17, No 45.

Two Forgers Are Being Sought By Southern Police

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23—UP—Piqued authorities tonight sought two ex-convicts on the theory that they took away more from San Quentin than the traditional five dollar bill and prison made suits.

Earmarked "prison expenses" the checks were drawn on the California and Ohio State treasury.

CALIFORNIA WIN RECORD IS BROKEN

The list of undefeated and untied football teams in the United States was whittled down yesterday when the California Bears, playing in the annual Big Game, lost a 13-0 decision to the Stanford Cardinals.

At the same time the Princeton Tigers, undefeated eastern eleven, defeated the hitherto undefeated Dartmouth squad, 26 to 6 in a snow storm.

Southern Methodist retained its undefeated status by defeating Baylor, 10-0 in a hot game.

STANFORD WINS
The California-Stanford game saw the Cardinals roll up a 13 point lead in the first quarter when Bobby Grayson snort-plugged an 80 yard drive to go over for a touchdown. C. F. C. scored the next one after California's fumble was recovered on the Bears' 29 yard line.

Labor Leaders In Battle

Starts At Bottom OFFICIAL OF STATE WILL FACE ARREST

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23—UP—Assemblyman Leola M. Donihue, Oakland, head of a special legislative investigating committee, today signed a complaint charging Fred W. Links, finance department superintendent of accounts, with 15 counts of violating Section 424 of the Penal Code.

Two of the counts accused Links of appropriating State money for his own use and the other 13 charged him with using State funds for purposes not authorized by law.

WARRANT ISSUED
District Attorney Otto Baebeck issued a warrant for Links' arrest.

The complaints grew out of Donihue's investigation of State auditing and the handling of State money.

Assemblyman said he found that Links had used the Finance Department's revolving fund for making personal purchases, later or at the same time reimbursing the fund by personal checks.

The Penal Code prohibits the use of State funds for any purpose other than making legitimate State purchases or meeting other necessary expenses. There was no financial loss to the State in this case, Donihue admitted, but the transactions allegedly were in violation of the Penal Code.

JURY STUDIES CASE
The Sacramento County Grand Jury studied evidence in the Links case this week but adjourned without returning an indictment or otherwise acting in the manner.

AS PRIVATE CITIZEN
Donihue said he acted today as a citizen of California and not as chairman of the investigating committee.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23—UP—Fred W. Links, state employee charged with misappropriation of public money, tonight posted $1500 cash bail for an appearance in court Nov. 28.

Clipper Ship Two Injured Lands After In Collision Ocean Flight Of Airplanes

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 23—UP—Pan American Airways trans-Pacific mail and passenger plane, the China Clipper, landed at the Pearl Harbor base at 12:50 p.m., P. S. T., completing the first phase of its inaugural airmail route to the Far East.

The giant four-motored craft appeared over Diamond Head at 12:35 P. M., and 15 minutes later was brought to rest and its crew of seven, led by Hawaiian officials and inhabitants of the islands.

The 2410-mile flight from Alameda, Calif., was made in 19 hours and four minutes, an average speed of approximately two miles a minute. The arrival was delayed almost two hours because of 20-mile headwinds.

Capt. Edwin Musick is scheduled to resume the flight tomorrow morning with Manila the goal by November 29.

The clipper left Alameda at 3:15 P. M., P. S. T., yesterday.

With magnificent ease, the clipper carrying seven men and 100,000 pieces of transoceanic mail in its 25-ton hull, fought off strong headwinds that would have baffled the great airship's predecessors over this historic route—the old China Clippers of 100 years ago.

Lewis, burly, lustrous-haired president of the United Mine Workers of America, curtly tendered his resignation as vice-president of the A. F. of L. to Green, long-time president of the Labor Federation they built to its great strength.

CRISP LETTER
The resignation was conveyed in a crisp 15-word letter reading: "Effective this date, I resign as vice president of the American Federation of Labor."

Shawnee Belle Is Winner In
El Cerrito Race

Shawnee Belle barely beat a rock at-closing Evening Starlight in the Big Game handicap before 6,500 fans last night at El Cerrito Kennel Club track.

The time was 29 1/5 seconds, best of the meeting and equalling the fastest time of the fall meet.

Shawnee Belle was $5.50 on preferred odds.

Kennelworth contended in third place up to the last turn, where the pace and look of racing told. Another few odds and Kennelworth went down.

Bing's Memory, another of those Sampson bunnies, took the nod in the second half of the double option, combining with Dawn's Pride for a $25 double.

Dawn's Pride, $20 preferred was the second No. 1 dog of the meeting to win a race. Bing's Memory, paid $19.20 preferred, ran second opening night.

Incidentally, the spotting of eye wounds in positions at the starting boxes is not a cinch for the No. 1 dog, as heretofore. Only three No. 1 dogs have won in 22 races.

Stanford U. Is Given An Even Edge For Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23 (UP)—Stanford's surprising victory over California today gave the Cardinal an even edge in the campaign to represent the West in the New Year's day West Coast football classic at Pasadena's famous Rose Bowl.

The Golden Bears had stood out as the unanimous choice for the honor until Stanford triumphed in a 10-0 victory over the Golden Bears at Palo Alto this afternoon. The result forced a close vote when the 16 Pacific Coast conference schools met on a selection Monday morning. California's 13-6 loss evened the season's record and put them with the Cardinal, but the defeat was far more convincing than was Stanford's 7-6 defeat at the hands of an inspired U. C. L. A. team earlier in the season. As a result, many Southern California observers predicted that the Cardinal would be named in Monday's balloting.

Indiana's Star
Sprinter Keeps
His AAU Title

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (UP)—Having a racing career and a stiff wind, Donald B. Lach of Indiana University today defended his title by winning the 220th annual national A. A. U. sprinter cross country run over the 10,000 meter course at Van Cortlandt Park today.

Lach covered the snow-covered course in 32:24 to lead his team mate Tom Decker, by 100 yards. Decker had had second, in 32:58, about 50 yards in front of another Indiana University barrier, James Smith, former junior national champion, who crossed the tape in 33:07. Eino Pentti, of the Millrose A. A. who finished third last year came in fourth with a time of 33:15.

Cards Exert Power
To Defeat Golden
Bears In Big Game

STANFORD STADIUM, Nov. 23—UP—Powered by eight "vowing seniors" in a crushing offensive team, Stanford humbled University of California 13 to 0 today to regain its Rose Bowl hopes and a tie for the Pacific Coast conference title.

The victory gave the Cardinal a tie with California, previously unbeaten and undefeated in the conference, championship.

30,000 PRESENT

Ninety thousand hordes flocked to watch the Stanford team play the magnificent heights pushing over two touchdowns in the first quarter after being rushed into the shadows of its own goal posts.

The Golden Bears, driving in after tackle Larry Lutz recovered a fumble by Jimmy Coffis, Stanford safety, passed and slashed their way to the Indians 12 within the first 5 minutes of play.

Then right end Henry Sparks, big sophomore getting his baptism of fire as he replaced the injured regular wingman Jack Brittingham, tried a field goal from a sharp angle. The ball sailed low and wide of the uprights.

STANFORD MARCHES

Bobby Grayson, All-American fullback, crashed 25 yards from his own 20 on the next play. The Stanford march was on. In exactly 5 plays the Indians marched to the Bears 19. Then Robert "Bones" Hamilton and Grayson teamed to carry the leather in seven plays to the 4 yard line.

With one tremendous lunge Grayson smashed through the California line and over the goal line. End Jim "Monk" Moscrip's try for the extra point was good.

80 YARD MARCH

The score climaxed an 80-yard march in which the Stanford boys sifted through the Bear line and secondary almost at will.

Demoralized by this sudden reversal the Bears lost the ball on their own 30 a minute later when quarterback John Meek fumbled and big Wes Muller, Stanford center, recovered. Grayson passed to SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE, Nov. 23 (UP)—A day of slideshows in addition to the main event attraction when the Black on State's College football team met Mary's Gaels in a football game on November 26th.

Besides the game itself, which is scheduled to be switched from Thanksgiving Day to the last minute, a series of individual duels will be staged.

The contest called by its own and even rival coaches "the most dangerous back on the coast," will attempt to feature the 1934 All-America player in competition with the school's best back, the Gael signaller, and make for all-work.

Home center, brilliant Moraga tackle who is captain for the day, will play opposite the just as noted to be the regular captain for the northerners.

Stan and L. the State's veteran standstill line, will put on an exhibition for center honors with the Saint Mary's All-American candidate, Alan Johnson.

Be and his own amusing of all to San Francisco's famous fans will be the network's sideline tactics of the Gael's best "bench performing" center, San Francisco's own son, Babe Hollinberry of the Cougars, and his adopted son, Slip Madigan.

Last year's battle, the first meeting of the two teams, drew 12,000 hooded-playing office workers on a Friday. The 1934 battle was a thriller, with the Cougars leading 6-3 until Vic Stubb caught a 40 yard pass from Harry Martos over the goal line to give the Gaels a 9-5 triumph.

Floyd Blower, outstanding left halfback among California's company of great backs, was the outstanding individual player of the game. He carried the ball 17 times for 85 yards and an average of 4.2 yards gained. Grayson got only 55 yards in 18 times, 25 of them on his first quarter breakaway. He averaged 2.9 yards per play.

INCREASE IN REGISTRATION OF VEHICLES

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23—California, still two months from the close of 1935, has shattered all annual marks for registration of motor vehicles—figures for the 10 month period ending October 31 showing a total of 2,195,500 vehicles registered in comparison with the previous annual high mark of 2,107,275 registrations in 1931.

According to the report, there were 102,173 more automobiles registered in the first 10 months of this year than there were in the period from January 1 to October 31, 1934. "Special indication of industrial progress," says Ingels' report, "is the fact that registration of pneumatic-tired trucks showed a gain of 17,885 in the 10 month comparative period. Pneumatic trailers, also closely identified with business operations, increased 14,282 registrations."

Exactly 135,536 more vehicles of all types were registered up to October 31 this year than were licensed in the first 10 months of 1934, according to the report. Collections by the department of motor vehicles amounted to $31,262,222 more than last year, with a total of $9,194,890.40 reported paid in registration fees.

Of the seven state divisions which issue registration Los Angeles led the entire state with $30,215,111, or a gain of $5,728 over the same period of 1934. Other areas made gains this year year as follows: Sacramento 46,500, Oakland, 12,138; Fresno, 10,213; San Francisco, 5031; Long Beach, 4265; and San Diego, 1600.

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lecture, "Soul and Body," will be read today, November 24, on the subject "Soul and Body."

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him." (Lam. 3: 25). Bible selections from II Corinthians 5: 1, 6, 8; "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have an building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." "Therefore we are always confident knowing that while we are absent from the Lord, we are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord."

A passage from "The Christian Science Text Book," "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is also included which reads as follows: "Sometime is turned into joy when the body is controlled by spirit. Love, Truth and Love. Hence the hope of the coming Jesus is now. He that believeth on me, he shall work that I do, shall he do also, because I have said unto my Father, 'Because the Son is absent from the body, and present with Truth and Love'." (p. 14).

The nearest competitor held a score of 1326, and they won individual scores as well. Thulia was high man at timed firing with a score of 94, while Burpee rang up a score of 98 for slow firing. Hence the additions to their store of silver medals.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22—UP—That increasing waistline, and the fact that it is increasing among both men and women, Johnny Weissmuller suggests swimming.

Weissmuller, whose physique presented as that of Tarzan in Edgar Rice Burroughs' thrillers, directed by M. G. M., asserts that people who swim, however, are careless about it.

"You're not going to get a where floating on your back, taking a sun bath on the beach," he said. "The way to strike out in the water and in the air."

"It doesn't require any particular strength and no special count. It demands less effort—when you know how—than either golf or tennis. But it does take persistence. A little study of correct form, happy to say that American swimming with real enthusiasm. I've heard of lotteries every week most of them from boys, as well-pointed questions. If the winners of today become good swimmers, you may be certain that we have a generation of strong, bodied adults."

Johnny deplors the tendency of the mechanical age to depend on artificial aid. He thinks people motor too much and swim too little; remain too long at bridge tables, and most of the at the dinner table.

"About the only thing man can do without mechanical help is fly," he remarked. "But down to the ground—and in the water we'd get a great deal more benefit if we'd use our arms and legs—our heads—more than we do."

At the M-G-M studios, Johnny is unofficial swimming instructor for a dozen stars, most enthusiastic of whom are Jackie Cooper and Freddie Bartholomew, who wish to start a national swimming class for boys, they to be champions. Another of his most enthusiastic pupils is Maureen O'Sullivan, diminutive actress who plays Tarzan's girl in "Tarzan Escapes." "Wherever you go," Johnny says, "if you watch the people, you'll find that more and more are swimming. It's a good thing. A swimming is good of course. But holes of golf aren't as good for man as one good swimmer. He!"

Silver Nitrate Is a Useful Drug, But Needs Careful Dosing

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

AMONG the many very valuable, but sometimes a little dangerous, drugs upon which we depend is nitrate of silver. A mere list of the things for which silver nitrate is effective would fill a page. Among the specific cases in which it is usually indicated are found the acute attacks of tonsillitis and nasopharyngitis, congestion of the uvula or upper palate, in chronic rhinitis or laryngitis, for certain forms of dysentery or of mucous colitis, for foot and mouth disease, or for am d wounds from the bite of animals, and these are a few of the list.

Miss R.E.B. asks if painting the tonsils three or four times a week for several months with a solution of nitrate of silver could cause any trouble later. She does not state the strength of the solution, but I judge she used a five or ten per cent solution.

Chronic silver poisoning frequently follows the local application of silver nitrate over a prolonged period. The poisoning consists of a discoloration of the eyelids, conjunctiva, and corners of the eye. The first indications of poisoning are the appearance of a slate-colored line along the gums and some swelling and inflammation there.

Become Slate Color

Later grayish spots appear on the skin and mucous membranes of the mouth and spread over the entire body, until all the skin becomes a peculiar grayish slate color, and may get quite dark. This discoloration is especially prominent in the face, but it is present in all the tissues of the body.

The coloring of the skin does not appear for a considerable time after beginning of the poisoning, but once started it continues to increase and become more pronounced. The color is very peculiar, being a slate gray that attracts attention and seems to increase and decrease under the same circumstances as blushing and redness due to anger or emotion.

It seems at first to cause little deleterious effect in the general health, but surely plays havoc with the patient's good looks. If it is necessary to use nitrate of silver locally over a prolonged period, the addition of sweet spirit of nitr to the solution is helpful in preventing the discoloration, but even then, the treatment should be stopped at the end of two or three weeks and not resumed for a week and by the end of three months, should be discontinued for at least a month.

During the rest periods, saline laxatives, diuretics and baths should be used to keep the system accumulated silver. Toddlers of polio, 10 grains in water with meals, three times a day, may produce a change in the color of the skin, but as a general rule the color of the skin never returns to normal and may become darker.

Has Caustic Properties

The fact that nitrate of silver does sometimes cause regrettable damage to human tissues lies in its caustic properties. It is eliminated very slowly by the system, and in consequence is deposited in the tissues. When the saturation point is reached, argyria, or chronic silver poisoning is the result.

Now, the caustic property of the nitrate is the very one we need when we use it for hastening the sloughing off of dead tissues, as in ulcers. It is both astringent and stimulating, so we paint acutely inflamed surfaces with a solution of it when the patient has nasal or throat inflammations. We put a strong solution around the base of a boil to abort it and we are able to eliminate warts by tormenting them with this same nitrate.

But, beware of this otherwise friendly drug if the case has developed some thin and tender surfaces or too many fresh ulcers. The same caustic qualities will do more harm than good.

In any case, treatment by silver nitrate should always allow for periods of rest so that the system has opportunity to throw off the absorbed metal. If the deposits are retained the darkened color, or pigmentation of the skin, is due to oxidation.

Naval Stores Oldest

Naval stores, oldest of the solvent industries in America, has had a history intimately interwoven with the progress of civilization on this continent. Robert C. Palmer of Pensacola, Fla., says in a symposium of the American Chemical Society. Despite the usefulness of the products of this industry, it is facing, according to Mr. Palmer, a none too bright future in the age of synthetics and must look diligently for new outlets. One of the most promising of these is the synthesis of camphor, already under way.

Profiles For Today

Dr. Hill Welds the Young Idea

By TALBOT LAKE

THE old contention that environment counts more than anything in the upbringing of the young receives confirmation in the success of the Hilltop School in Bronx County, N. Y. This school has had the effect of reducing petty crime in its neighborhood, and is also credited with starting many children on the right path, where they might otherwise easily have strayed from the straight and narrow.

The person who should receive the honors for this achievement is Dr. Patty Smith Hill, who, in her long career, has been a teacher for fifty years and was a professor emerita at Teachers College, Columbia University, when she retired in 1934.

"Retired," in Dr. Hill's case, is technically correct, but actually she has worked harder than ever since she left Columbia. With funds gathered from the works division of the Department of Public Welfare, the Jewish Theological Seminary, and other sources she set out to do something about the problem children of our big cities, who are raised in bleak streets and bleaker tenements. Her theory was—and still is—that if these boys and girls are headed in the right direction by being surrounded with the better things of life, they will respond and become useful, rather than hindering, citizens.

The school was forthwith established and the young children have since been acquiring the benefits of decent clothes, nourishing food, and recreation of the right sort. The school also acts as a community center for the neighborhood with the parents co-operating.

Dr. Hill comes from Louisville, Kentucky, originally and was educated there at the Collegiate Institute. One of her sisters is writing kindergarten ditties with her sister, Mildred J. Hill. This took an unusual slant a couple of years ago when "As Thousands Cheer," the musical comedy, was current and very successful at the box office. Publishers sued the producers of the show, alleging the copyright of Dr. Hill's song, "Good Morning to All," had been infringed upon. Thus does education get mixed up with show business.

Lustrous Hair Always Called Beauty Mark

By JACQUELINE HUNT

STYLES may change, but soft, lustrous hair will always retain its power of allurements. Here is a continuation of our summary of treatments which make your hair healthy and to preserve its beauty. Always have your shampoo soap in liquid form to thoroughly saturate and cleanse the hair and scalp. Add enough hot water to the liquid soap to make it warm. Very hot or very cold shampoos are shocking to the scalp and the latter will not cut oily deposits.

Rinse your hair in warm water for softness and fluffiness. There is one exception—very coarse naturally curly hair will be more tractable if rinsed in cold water. Always rinse four or five times—until the hair literally squeaks under your fingers. The shampoo leaves a coating of soap on the hair shafts and unless the water used is very soft, the soap film is not removed by ordinary rinsings. For this reason it is wise to add the strained juice of lemons or a special softening preparation to the next-to-the-last rinse.

To set your permanent wave after shampooing your hair remove the excess moisture with a towel. If you need a waving lotion use a light one made with an oil base and spray it on sparingly. Set your waves while the hair is slightly damp.

A daily scalp and hair treatment with a brush that has uneven, flexible, yet fairly stiff bristles that really penetrate to the scalp will take away the stray appearance of an over-bleached head of hair. It will also improve the texture and appearance of very dry hair and prevent split ends by distributing the oil produced by minute glands in the scalp down the length of the strands.

Whenever giving yourself a brushing treatment wipe the bristles several times on a clean towel. You will be surprised at the marks it will leave.

If your permanent wave is growing out, and you cannot get a new one immediately, try restoring the one you have with extra brushing, hot oil treatments, and occasionally holding your head over a bowl of steaming water. Hold a turkish towel, tent-fashion, over your head to keep the steam in.

Run a comb through your damp locks and press the waves into place, then roll up the ends on small curlers. Not only will your old wave be revived, but your hair will be in better condition when you get around to having a new wave.

One more tip on brushing—always place your brush on its side at the beginning. This means that scalp deposits and dead hair will be picked up by the bristles at the side of the brush, leaving the majority of the bristles free for massaging, stimulating and polishing.

Any girl who travels or who appreciates practical and attractive things would love to have one of the new brush kits for Christmas. These compact kits of genuine leather in brown or navy blue and fasten with zippers.

Each case contains a small, but thoroughly efficient hair brush, a comb, a toothbrush with a protective cap case and a comb. All of these articles are in plastic in gay shades of royal blue, lemon yellow, Chinese red or sea green to suit the individual taste. Convenient pockets provide space for cleansing tissues, hair pins and small tubes of your favorite toothpaste.

If you would like to know more about the brush kits, just drop me a note, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "My cheeks are deeply sunken, giving my face an aged, unhealthy appearance. My weight is normal, so this cannot be at fault. Will massage or a good cream help fill out these contours?"

—Mrs. Sedgwick.

It may be that your weight is below normal for the size of your bones and the general structure of your body. Certainly there is no harm in trying to put on a few pounds to see if there isn't an improvement. Try to get more rest, too. Nothing is so revivifying to tired faces as an extra hour or two of sleep each night and some rest and recreation during the day.

Massage with any good nourishing cream or muscle oil will help slightly in improving the contours, although it will not "build" tissues. Incidentally, you might have your dentist give your teeth and gums a good examination. Missing teeth or unhealthy gums might account for your deeply sunken cheeks.

Some of Newest Blouses Are Buttoned Up the Back

By IRENE VAIL

New York—The French way of handling the blouse situation is worth looking into. They are often worn over a black crepe foundation slip, evening dress really when the blouse is removed. It's a clever way of handling the two-piece idea and simplifies dressing. Many of the best-looking blouses, and some of the nicest dresses are buttoned up the back, novelty buttons usually.

This sort of thing, not the buttons but the interesting in the every day, is a new trend in fashion. It's a new trend in fashion. It's a new trend in fashion.

When it comes time to compile that Christmas list don't forget to add belts, belts and more belts. One can hardly have too many. I've already told you about the Parisienne's preference for red ones, but there are scads of others that are chic as chic can be.

In the meantime, perhaps, you are more interested in the every day sort of regalia, smart blouses, nifty looking sweaters, and such. Some of the best looking blouses look as though they had been taken right off the well-dressed man's back, even to the high winged collar and the four-in-

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "I read Modes and Manners every evening and have gained much helpful advice through it. I am a young girl of twenty-three engaged to be married. My cousin is planning a shower for us. As she does not know half of my friends, should I give her a list of names and their addresses and have her mail them invitations? Or should I have a girl friend of mine help and let my friends know, as 'most all of her friends are mine'—L.C.L."

ANSWER: It would be much better if your girl friend and cousin were to give the shower for you jointly. Then your cousin would know whom to invite from among your relatives and your girl friend would know whom to invite from among your friends. Then both the relatives and friends would be made more comfortable at the shower through knowing the hosts, at least one of them, well. Your cousin could invite your girl friend to assist her in the organization of the shower, making it plain to her that she would not have to share in the expense.

Dishes for Today

Evening Meal Needs Merely Three Dishes

By JUDITH WILSON

WE HAVE come to think of "dinner" as a substantial evening meal, served between six-thirty and seven-thirty, but there are many homes where dinner is still served at noon with a light supper in the evening. This plan has several advantages, especially in homes where there are small children.

A simplified, nutritious evening meal leaves your afternoons free for recreation or other activities, and a few well-balanced dishes save work. The menus for these evening meals need consist only of three dishes, plus bread of some kind and a hot or cold beverage. Have one main dish. It may be a salad of a substantial nature accompanied by hot bread, a hearty soup, or even the desert. A good cake, fruit, custard, or a dessert combining both and eggs might call for a large, but simple, salad with toasted rolls or dainty sandwiches. A hearty soup is good with a fruit salad and refrigerator cake or small pumpkin tarts. A vegetable plate with spicy apple gingerbread and coffee is a complete meal, and once you have tried it you will admit that it is a delicious one.

Here are some dishes that are especially satisfying for these simplified supper menus.

SUPPERS
Asparagus with Poached Eggs
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Baked Pear Halves with Jelly Sauce
Tea with Lemon

Bean Soup with Sliced Frankfurters
Hard Rolls or Italian Bread
Radishes
Hot Gingerbread with Whipped Cream
Coffee

Bean Soup
Wash 1½ cups red kidney beans or the small white navy beans. Soak overnight or several hours in cold water, then cook slowly with a ham hock and a clove of garlic until the beans are soft. Add salt to taste and continue cooking until very tender. Press the beans through a sieve to make a medium thick puree. Slice and slice frankfurters and add to the puree. Heat thoroughly and serve.

Asparagus-Poached Eggs
Put freshly cooked or canned asparagus on a heat resisting platter. Cover the tips with grated cheese and a few drops lemon juice. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper, dot with butter and bake in a hot oven until the cheese begins to melt. Top with poached eggs and serve immediately.

Baked Pears
Roll cornflakes fine. Drain halves of canned pears from their syrup and roll in the crumbs. Arrange in a buttered baking dish, pour in a little of the syrup and fill the centers of the pears with a tart jelly. Bake until the crumbs are delicately browned and the pears hot through. Serve with jelly sauce, and be sure it's tart. Cranberry or currant jelly is especially good.

Corned Beef-Noodles
Add cooked, drained noodles to a rich white sauce to which enough prepared mustard and grated cheese have been added to give a good flavor. Cut hot corned beef in very thin slices. Spread half with the noodles and top with other thin slices of corned beef, sandwich fashion. Serve on a plate with a garnish of watercress and radishes. Crisp buttered rolls, coffee and a fruit dessert complete the menu.

SIMPLE, BUT EFFECTIVE

Not all of the screen stars' homes are elaborate. Edna May Oliver, for instance, scorns the gilded kind of thing for a simple white-washed brick house of only one story.

MODERN WOMEN

Unselfishness Is Not Always the Beautiful Form Of Conduct It Is Painted

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

THAT women are extremists seems to be a pretty generally conceded fact. The sex one might suppose would be conservative turns out to be quite the reverse.

Now we hear that women are also the restless sex, and the ones who must zealously seek self-expression. At least, so says Miss Julianne Carl, who is lecturing and studying the reactions of people, women especially. She finds that it is the homebody who is the most likely to go to extremes.

She says: "Restlessness is the greatest single characteristic of the world today. Everyone wants a change and is seeking it along the highways and the byways, eager to attract anything and do everything for variety. Among women it takes the form of fear they may be missing something, as well as a predominant search for self-expression."

"All my students report that women ask more about the arts and self-expression. Men, being more absorbed in their day's routine, are a shade less restless than women. Women in business or a profession tend to react, after several years, less emotionally. It is the home woman who goes to extremes; if she is unselfish, she may nearly wreck her own life in the attempt to serve others, and thereby cause havoc in the lives of all about her."

Selfish or Unselfish
Marian, who had never refused her milk before, was experimenting with an idea borrowed from a little friend. This other little girl, at first to Marian's astonishment, brought her mother to do just as she pleases simply by crying. Marian has observed how the other girl's mother rushes anxiously to her side and says, "There, there, don't cry. Tell mother about it." When the other little girl does not want to drink milk or otherwise refuses to do as told, if she cries long and loud enough she generally has her own way in the end. You cannot blame Marian for wanting to control her mother that way, too.

I'm not trying to defend Marian. Rather, what I should like to point out is that a child may pick up wrong ideas in behavior on the outside. Children, after all, are susceptible to the influences of example outside, as well as inside. The home, it may save you trouble to remember this next time a child tries out some new trick in misbehavior. Don't argue. Don't attempt to force him to do as you say. It is not important. What really counts is the putting across of this point. "I don't know where you picked up the idea of not drinking milk (or of whining, talking back, or what not), but you can't do it here and get away with it. I'll let you off this time because it is the first time. But I'm giving you fair warning. Don't try it again!"

Soap Is Progressing
Soap, long considered a measure of the progress of civilization, is no longer the simple alkali salt of a fatty acid that it has been traditionally, according to Dr. Martin H. Itner of Jersey City, N. J. Manufacturers have had to develop their product in many ways to meet the varying needs of people and industry. Newer detergents threaten soap's supremacy as a cleaning agent, according to Dr. Itner.

This enviable state of affairs could be arrived at, one might suppose, without utter selfishness. In order to achieve one's purpose in life it is always necessary to make some sacrifices, although sometimes they are too great. The less unselfish person foregoes a personal success and very often gets very little credit for having done so.

It seems to me there are circumstances in which one might be quite justified in being selfish. It's a sort of preservation to those who are beset by demands from the leaneers, those who won't stand on their own feet when there is anyone on whom they can lean. It's carrying unselfishness to extremes to allow one's strength to be completely depleted by those who intentionally or unintentionally sap it constantly.

But to revert to Miss Carl, who is studying human reactions and should therefore know something of them, she finds "a peculiar sensitivity or reluctance toward breaking up a marriage."

"Men and women very definitely disclose a conscience and loyalty toward their marital partner," she says. "For example, a reluctance to cause the latter unhappiness by disclosing a desire for a separation. This, from my experience, is almost universal."

Short Cuts

Choose round, firm apples of approximately uniform size for baking. An apple that falls apart while baking is not appetizing. A firm apple has a better chance of retaining its original shape during the baking process than fruit that is too delicate in grain.

When quick cooking is desired, when apples are used in pie or sauce, be sure to select apples of a fine texture.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, a hen of different shades of egg, depending upon the breed, will produce from six to ten yolks.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.
For they can't do it. The only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.
If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin dries, cracks out in blisters. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.
If taken these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.
You don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. 25c at drug stores. © 1935 C. M. Co.

Aid For New Air Force

JUST AS, nearly half a century ago, thousands of children in the United States and France contributed pennies for the pedestal and the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor, 9,000,000 modern-day children in Japan contributed 9,000,000 sen—about a third of a cent—for the building of this latest addition to Japan's air force. SEN. BORAH MAKES REPLY TO THREAT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—UP.—Senator William E. Borah, Republican, Idaho, tonight "assumed" for the purpose of writing a letter that he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The Senator emphasized that his assumption was merely temporary—for the time is required him to write a stinging rebuke to the Society for the Advancement of Colored People, which had threatened political reprisals for Borah's stand against the anti-lynching bill. But political circles saw in the letter a further hint of Borah's plans for 1936.

Borah, progressive leader of the Senate and sponsor of a resolution to investigate alleged religious persecutions in Mexico, told Walter White, secretary of the association, that he would veto a lynching bill "should the unexpected and great honor come to me of being president."

Borah based his opposition on belief that a federal law to ban lynching would be contrary to the constitution.

Injection of the constitutional issue into the letter at a time when the document may move the battle ground of the 1936 battle was regarded as of political significance.

During debate on the anti-lynching bill, Borah had indicated he would consider it unconstitutional even though the supreme court upheld it. His letter was a vigorous defense of states' rights.

Political analysts saw in it a willingness to make the constitution in its present form the center of debate. This would diverge sharply from the stand of President Roosevelt who has indicated he is willing to battle for a constitutional amendment which would ratify New Deal measures in 1936 should they be held unconstitutional in the meantime.

Borah is expected to make a series of speeches before congress convenes in January of possible political implication. One has been scheduled for broadcasting December 7.

The association's letter bitterly assailed Borah and cited a whole series of lynchings which have occurred since the Wagner-Costigan anti-lynching bill was filibustered in the Senate. It inferred that the killing of the bill was partly responsible for the condition and warned Borah, in view of his reputed candidacy, that there are 12,000,000 negro voters who control the elections in some of the "slave states" of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

W. C. T. U. Head Is Critically Hurt In Auto Crash

THE DALLIES, Ore., Nov. 23.—Mrs. Ada Jolley, state president of the W. C. T. U. was injured critically in an automobile collision on the Columbia highway late today.

She was taken to a local hospital, suffering from a basal fracture of the skull.

Little hope was held for her recovery.

Mrs. Jolley was en route to Portland by bus from Pendleton, and was accidentally left here when the bus departed. Vernon Platt, Moscow, arance man, volunteered to take her in his car and catch the bus at Rowena.

The accident occurred about four miles west of The Dalles, where Platt's machine and one operated by Frank E. Johnson, of this city, collided at a side road.

Platt and Johnson suffered minor injuries.

Duck Hunter Is Found Dead In Vallejo Blind

VALLEJO, Nov. 23.—Dr. A. P. Matson, Alameda dentist, was discovered dead today in a duck blind on the Ming ranch, one mile from here. After a preliminary examination, authorities said they believed he was the victim of a heart attack.

Dr. Matson was reported, was hunting with H. H. Becker, also of Alameda, but their blinds were separated and, due to the haze, Becker did not discover the death. Dr. Matson's body was found by Charles Starr, a watchman for the duck club patronized by Dr. Matson and Becker.

The body was not discovered until shortly before noon. Dr. Matson's body was identified by Starr, who said he had long been a member of the club. It was removed to the undertaking parlors of Chisholm and Dickey, pending further arrangements.

DIAMONDS SYMBOLICAL OF UNSELFISH LOVE
LEGEND SAYS THAT GNOMES WERE THE GUARDIANS OF MINES AND TREASURES OF THE EARTH. WHEN THEY GRIEVED OVER THE LOSS OF LOVED ONES THEIR TEARS TURNED INTO DIAMONDS, WHICH REMAIN AS THE SYMBOL OF UNSELFISH LOVE.

ENTANGLING ALLIANCES
THIS PHRASE, POPULARLY ATTRIBUTED TO WASHINGTON, ACTUALLY COMES FROM THOMAS JEFFERSON'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS ON MARCH 4, 1801: "PEACE, COMMERCE AND HONEST FRIENDSHIP WITH ALL NATIONS—ENTANGLING ALLIANCES WITH NONE."

LEWIS QUILTS A. F. L. POST IN UNION ROW

Nor does it withdraw the mine workers from their affiliation with the Federation of Labor. The mine workers, with a membership of 400,000, constitute the strongest single unit within the A. F. of L.

ROW OVER CRAFT
Difference between Green and Lewis over basic organization policies lead to the split. Lewis long has championed industrial unions—the organization of all workers in an industry into a single unit. Green has championed craft unions—organization of men in the same trade into separate units.

The federation, under leadership of Green, has fought the industrial union idea. Lewis has been voted down by 3 to 2, but has made steady gains. These gains have threatened Green's leadership.

Lewis demands for industrial recognition precipitated a heated dispute on the floor at the A. F. of L. convention in Atlantic City last month. Lewis and J. C. Hatcher, international president of the Carpenters, battled each other with their fists. Lewis was voted down on his demands.

Mistrial Ordered In Lamson's Case

SAN JOSE, Nov. 23.—Adding a touch that was almost farcical to the long drawn out Lamson proceedings, a mistrial was ordered today in the third murder trial of David Lamson and a new trial was ordered to start Monday, January 27.

The mistrial was ordered by Judge J. J. Trabucco and resulted from a comedy of errors connected with names missing from Santa Clara county jury box. Yesterday afternoon, as the first venire was two sons, motored to the border and boarded a train for Mexico City.

De La Huerta, Mexican Minister of Education, before he became President for a brief time in 1924, taught voice during his exile 10 years of it spent in Los Angeles.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver discharge its excess bile. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills. What every constipated person needs is a good liver tonic. Plantax is a thoroughly cleanses the digestive system of all four secretions and lazy liver to proper working order. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, bilious attacks or other "symptoms" of constipation and liver trouble. Plantax is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants—Nature's own remedies that act in a mild, easy way without weakening or irritating the organs. 17¢ B. G. M. Co., Long Beach, Cal.
